

Faith at Work in Worcestershire (FWW) is an ecumenical church project, promoting and supporting workplace chaplaincy to people at work across Worcestershire. We train and support volunteer chaplains from churches across the county to undertake this vital ministry of care and engagement, providing confidential support to workers, and businesses, through regular visits to workplaces. We are a registered charity run by a voluntary ecumenical Board of Trustees, a part time Development Officer, Revd Dick Johnson and volunteers who undertake various tasks. We are supported by individuals and congregations from across the county, who pledge to pray regularly for Faith at Work in Worcestershire and for all who work in our local economy, and support our work financially. Supporters receive our monthly Prayer Guide, and regular e-news bulletins, together with invitations to special events twice a year – usually a visit to a particular business or workplace in the county.
